Motivational speaker and to make a release plan for reintegration.	Completed	The office invited Mr. Kezang Dorji, (named the rising star of Bhutan by print media Kuensel) as the motivational guest speaker at youth development rehabilitation centre (YDRC). He has a very struggling life story behind his achievements. He shared the stories of his achievements, how he conquered his goals. He focused on five things: 1. Friend circle 2. Self reflection. 3. Hope and determination 4. Never be afraid to come forward 5. Keeping your mindset positive. One needs to

		be careful while choosing friends as the quality of a person is shaped by the friends around. He mentioned the importance of reflection of self at the end of the day and acknowledge the mistakes and learn from those mistakes. Without hope there is no way to get through. No matter what happens in life, with hope we should be moving forward because the hope itself is strength to shine in life. These were the important words shared by the speaker. The program went quite interesting and interactive. Many got a chance to reflect and they could discover on themselves through his talk, and asked questions to seek help on success tips. After the program, we had a feedback session, and the residence had given a lot of positive comments. They have even written what they have understood, and how much they are inspired.

2 Lesson Learned

This program was conducted with an aim to develop strength to accept the mistakes and learn from those experiences.

Many boys and girls who are serving term at Youth development rehabilitation centre lack confidence and are emotionally weak, and felt the need of frequent counseling.

After the program many suggested that they need more inspirational guest speakers and then more similar programs to be conducted in future.

The program was a great achievement because Mr. Kezang being a role model and an influential speaker could deliver the talk up to their expectations and could meet their learning objectives. Residence were motivated enough to see the larger part of the world through the words of an experienced living example.

The office really needs to plan for their reintegration because while collecting the release report, we came to know that some of them don't have a proper family to go back, and then felt the need to get them during the release.

3. Risk Analysis(Report on changes, challenges or achievements)

Changes/ Achievements: The program was a great achievement. Mr Kezang coming from one of the struggling families could deliver a talk based on his experiences which most of the residence got identified through his talk. The program content was very much relevant to the residence. Released report was also collected for those who are getting released in 2018, which would ultimately help the office to make a good release plan for them.

Residence is of young heart and hot blood, and they are so much filled with energy, but they lacked proper guidance and that's why they landed up in the centre. They are in need of a lamp to see their right way through the darkness. For that, the office took the role to create a pathway to their destiny. And then during the program, we could see a growth in them towards a positive life. They could interact progressively as the program went on and shared openly their feelings. There was a development in various level of their confidence. They were instilled enough to see themselves as a better person in each next level.

4. Way forward

After conducting a motivational speaker program at youth development rehabilitation centre, the office felt it is very important to conduct such programs quite often and keep them motivated constantly because they are emotionally weak. Many who is serving term doesn't have a solace support after their release most of them come from dysfunctional or either economically challenged family. So for that, office needs to make a good and proper reintegration plan for them and need to follow up for those getting released.

Nazhoen Lamtoen on behalf of Youth Development and Rehabilitation Centre would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to Save the Children, Italy and Save the children Bhutan for supporting the program, which benefited all the children and youth of YDRC. We hope similar program at YDRC will have greater impact on the lives of children
